Chang Chien's Views
China's Great Need
The Reclamation Plan

A Masterly handbook enabling the reader to obtain something of a bird's eye view of the cotton problem in China and one that cannot be too strongly recommended to all who wish to realize both the strength and the weakness of the textile industry in this country is that from the pen of the Hon. Mr. Chang Chien, the industrialist, whose name is well associated with the development of Nanjing. The work professes to be a discussion on the necessity of China increasing her supplies of cotton so as to balance the demand and supply of the raw material. Nevertheless, this preliminary discussion is in no way elementary. In its 38 pages the author has produced a study as careful, painstaking and up-to-date as any contribution to economics ought to be. There is a touch of inspiration in its pages and the views are sound, while the expression is lucid.

On the necessity of increasing the cotton production it is hardly necessary for us to dilate here, for we have in season and out pointed out the seriousness of the situation. Cotton production in China has not kept pace with the increase in spindleage, with the result that every year the cotton mills in this country are obliged to indent large quantities of the staple from India and America.

YIELD DECREASES

On the showing of the Chinese Cotton Millowners' Association, who compile every year an estimate of the acreage and production of cotton in China, the area under cotton and the yield have been steadily declining while spindles have been increasing. For instance, from 31,553,851 mow under cotton in 1919-1920 season the acreage had dropped to 28,216,488 mow in 1921-1922 season, while the yield had naturally fallen as well from 10,220,779 piculs 1919-1920 season to 5,435,220 piculs in 1921-1922 season.

The situation is, indeed, serious for the cotton spinning mills in China. It is apparent that the acreage of the present Chinese cotton farms is not large enough to meet the demand of the textile industry, and in this connection Mr. Chang Chien offers a panacea which is worthy of attention not only of the government but also of the millowners.

The solution, in the author's opinion, lies in reclaiming and irrigating land along the Yangtze that is suitable for cotton cultivation. Reports of English and Dutch engineers show that through the regulation of the Yangtze river 800,000 mow of land could be gained in the nine districts along the lower Yangtze. Mr. Chang states that some 25% of this mow of additional land could be put under cotton cultivation in this scheme, which will produce 1,317,000 catties of raw cotton. On the face of it the plan appears to be feasible and practicable.

THE PROBLEM STATED
The most interesting feature of the book is the analysis of the position from all its angles, which makes the diagnosis well worked out. The concluding chapter might be considered to be somewhat sketchy but that does not mean that it should be disregarded. Instead, the reader should look upon the carefully reasoned theory which preceded it as a statement of the problem, of which the solution has been offered and in a way attempted by the author himself in the reclamation scheme.

We cannot but quote the following from the work which is one of the telling arguments in support of the need for further intensive cultivation of cotton in this country:
"I suggest the above plan for the good of both China and Japan. As a rule, however, a nation should always strive to develop by her own effort the agricultural enterprises to the point where she can get as much raw material as is needed by the factories and by the people within her confines. Thus, both America and India get 95 percent of the cotton consumed from their own respective markets. But in China, of the quantity of cotton consumed 65 percent only comes from her own plantations, 14 percent of cotton consumed in the country from India, 4 percent from China and 1 percent from Egypt."

"Japan is under necessity to buy cotton from outside (as she has little land to provide for sufficient raw material). Why should China, whose conditions are different? ... I hope, however, that the handicap in the cotton trade during the past two years will give the Chinese people a great lesson for many were for the first time awakened to the serious consequences of a cotton famine."

REVOLT PLOT IN GERMANY IS FAILURE; 581 SEIZED

ORDER RESTORED

French Blame Germans For Deaths At Duesseldorf

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 3.—An official statement with regard to the Kuestrin affair states that many youths in the districts around Berlin last week volunteered to join the Reichswehr. Their motives, however, were subjected and warnings were issued threatening vigorous steps against agitators. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the leader of the movement, a former Major in the army named Buchdrucker. When he saw his plans frustrated Buchdrucker concentrated his supporters who concealed themselves on the night of October 1 in the old fortress works at Kuestrin. Buchdrucker later ordered the occupation of the principal points of the town. He attempted to negotiate with Colonel Jodorus, but the latter immediately gave orders for his arrest and mobilized his escort of troops. The rebels were shut up in the courtyard. One soldier was killed and two wounded and three slightly wounded. The designed rebels, numbering 581, including 13 leaders, surrendered and a relieving body of 30 men were also captured. A further 200 were arrested at Duesseldorf. The opinion is ventured that the movement has been nipped in the bud.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 2.—A communique has been published by the occupation authorities to correct certain incorrect German stories with regard to the incident of the Separatist demonstration at Duesseldorf on Sunday. About 30,000 people had assembled for the demonstration, their peaceful intentions being proved by the presence of women and children. The German police intervened contrary to the orders of the French authorities which were to interpose only in case of rioting or pillage. About 3.45 during the speeches of the Separatist orators, as a result of an incident which has not yet been explained, a detachment of Schutzpolizei, coming out of the barracks opened fire on the crowds without having previously called upon them to disperse. About 4.30 another incident took place near the station. Green Police without any reason opened fire on a party of Rhinelanders going out to the departure platform. French troops then intervened to restore order, marched the Schutzpolizei back to barracks and disarmed them. Information from various sources establishes that Regierungs-Präsident Grutznager, who had been expelled from the Ruhr, sent from Barmen to the Oberburgmeister the order to bring about the failure at any price of the Separatist demonstration.

REVENUE FROM CUSTOMS FAILS TO MEET NEEDS

Increase Is Insufficient To Cover Foreign Loans And Indemnity

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 3.—Reuter's Agency learns that the net Customs revenue for the first nine months of this year is only about Shanghai 13,300,000 over last year's net collection for the same period, while the cost of foreign loans and indemnity charged to this revenue for the first nine months of this year is Shanghai 13,600,000 more than it was for the corresponding period last year. The cost of the foreign loans and indemnity has risen owing, firstly, to the fall in exchange, secondly, to the large sums required to meet in gold the Boxer Indemnity payments and, thirdly, to the fact that the instalments for the redemption of the 1913 Re-organization Loan fell due from July this year.

BY J. L. BUTTS

Previous to the official inquiry into the matter at the Mixed Court, it was a moot question whether Wang Tung-sung was a chivalrous gent with a hankering to shimmer brightly in the eyes of the sex, or whether he was only a chronic disturber of the peace, the scales sagging a bit, possibly, in favor of the latter theory. After the legal ceremonies, however, Wang appeared to be unanimously elected to the belshazzar party.

After all though, it may have been the moonlight which was to blame. It was evening and Wang, tired after a day of wheelbarrow trundling, sat on a small bench abutting on the footpath along North Homan Road. Beside him sat a presumably, coy young lady, and, as said, the moon was shining. Thus the situation was provocative of events.

Bustling along North Homan Road, bent upon keeping a rapidly approaching appointment, came a worthy citizen and his wife. The wife is beyond doubt a firm convert to the idea of preparedness, for, despite the radiant charity of the night she was equipped with a full-size paper umbrella. While she stepped briskly along the umbrella, tucked beneath her arm rhythmically described a short arc back and forth across the inner sector of the footpath. As the pair passed the bench the weapon chanced to be on the inward swing. Wang's fair companion was within the compass of the arc. She uttered a small scream as the point prodded her.

Instantly Wang was upon his feet. He demanded retraction, apology, indemnity and other things in the way of reparation which occurred to him. He demanded that the startled husband of the offending party stand and have his face slapped for the careless behavior of his family. He demanded so emphatically that a Sikh Constable who had been standing several hundred yards away came galloping to the scene to see what the oratory was all about. The sight of the uniform seemed to affect Wang violently. He greeted the policeman with a right swing to the jaw. The Sikh was taken aback and before he recovered Wang landed a telling blow on his wrist watch, the crystal of which was practically ruined. Shortly after this Wang arrived at the police station.

In court, after the details had been gone into, the Magistrate asked Wang if he was in the habit of appearing before that tribunal. Wang scouted the suggestion. The Magistrate gazed pensively for a brief space at the police record before him, where it was set forth that Wang had been an occupant of the prisoners' dock on four previous occasions, twice for riotous behavior and fighting. Then he made a couple of deft strokes with his ink brush. On being translated the result was seen to be as follows:
"Two months."

CHESTNUT

Three weeks ago Tsung Ah-foo, who lives in the Dong Ka Loong, lost one of his best jackets. A day or so ago he came across the missing garment, which chanced at the time to be gracing the superstructure of Sung Ah-doo, a very occasional acquaintance of his owner.

Tsung reclaimed his property with considerable ado and Sung was carted off to a police station by a C.P.C. who was within earshot when the reclamation process began. In court when questioned regarding his possession of the coat Sung launched into a lamentation predicated upon the utter absence of a sense of humor in the good friend Tsung Ah-foo. That he had taken the jacket

NEW EXPORT FIELDS ARE DEBATED AT CONFERENCE

Economic Discussions Started At London

PREMIERS ATTEND

Trade Development Is Urgent Need, View

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—The Imperial Economic Conference opened at the Cabinet offices at Whitehall today, and was adjourned till Thursday after a two-hour sitting. Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame, the President of the Board of Trade, in his opening speech briefly reviewed the economic situation and the tasks of the Conference. Mr. Mackenzie King (Canada), Mr. Massey (New Zealand), General Smuts (South Africa), Mr. Joseph McGrath, (Minister of Industries and Commerce of the Irish Free State), Mr. W. R. Warren (Newfoundland), Mr. C. A. Innes (Member of the Governor-General's Council of India) and Mr. Ormsby-Gore (Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies) made speeches in reply.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 1.—In the course of his speech at the opening of the Imperial Conference this morning, Mr. Stanley Baldwin recalled that the future of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance and its bearing on the relations of the British Empire with the United States was the chief question regarding Imperial defence at the last Conference. The Prime Minister pointed out that ratification of the Quadruple Pacific Treaty was now completed, whereupon the Anglo-Japanese Agreement of 1911 automatically terminated. "We have all been deeply moved by the news of the recent earthquake in the East. I am sure you wish me to express our profound sympathy with our faithful ally in the terrible calamity which has befallen her and our recognition of the brave spirit in which she has met it."

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—Dealing with Imperial preference in his speech at the opening of the Imperial Economic Conference today, Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame said that any increase which the Dominions were able to make in the rate of preference would be of real value. Britain had already established the principle in her own more limited fiscal system, and would certainly approach the question with a strong desire to increase mutual trade. He was ready and willing to take what action was possible to secure that end.

The President of the Board of Trade dwelt on the urgency of Britain developing new markets overseas. The Conference must work out a scheme of credit facilities and financial co-operation with a view to accelerating the development of the Empire at this time of our greatest need.

In conclusion the speaker suggested the establishment of an advisory body to discuss matters arising out of the decisions of the Conference and action to give effect to them.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 2.—The Daily Telegraph, commenting on Mr. Baldwin's speech at the opening of the Imperial Conference, declares that the communication regarding his interview with M. Poincaré is a document of great political importance for it announces a new period of confidence and goodwill in the relations of Britain with France.

Officers And Men Of American Warship To Gather At Navy "Y"

The American "Fleet Service" ever held ashore in Shanghai will take place next Sunday morning at the new Navy Y. M. C. A., Hongkong and Szechuen Roads.

Last Sunday the "church compartment" on the flagship Huron was so crowded that it was difficult to seat the men and the necessity of securing larger and better adapted quarters where the officers and men of the fleet and their families could conveniently meet to worship was immediately apparent. This need was met by the Navy "Y" at the request of the Commander-in-Chief.

The service Sunday morning, at 10:30, will be in charge of Chaplain T. P. Riddle, who will preach the sermon.

BRUTAL BEATING OF SLAVE GIRL BRINGS BIG FINE

Woman Convicted Of Ill-treating Six-Year-Old Child

A woman named Tsang Dong-sze, 212 North Homan Road, was fined $200 by Assessor Whitmore and Magistrate Li in the Mixed Court yesterday for cruelly ill-treating a 6-year-old slave girl.

The child was brought to St. Elizabeth's Hospital on September 24 in an unconscious condition. She had a blackened eye and examination showed her body to be covered with bruises. She was unconscious for over 12 hours and later told representatives of the hospital and of the Door of Hope that she had been pushed downstairs by her mistress and beaten with a stick of firewood. Neighbors of the accused also wrote to the hospital stating that the child had been ill-treated.

The accused denied the charge and declared that the little girl's injuries were caused by her falling downstairs and having a bicycle fall upon her.

After the fine had been imposed the court ordered the child turned over to the Door of Hope.

The Komical Klan

Oklahoma War Assumes An Opera Bouffe Aspect

(BY UNITED PRESS)
Oklahoma City, Oct. 2.—Governor Walton's war on the Klan is rapidly assuming the aspect of a comic opera and it is believed that if the threatened bloodshed is averted for a few more days the entire affair will fizzle out.

Conditions in the larger cities of the state and here in the capital are still serious, however, and there is still the now rather remote possibility that some "hot-head" on either the Governor's or the Klan's side may precipitate a fight by hasty belligerent action.

Governor Walton has armed one hundred civilians with rifles and ordered them to patrol the city and prevent the circulation of campaign literature demanding a referendum vote of the electorate of the state for his recall because of his actions in attempting to suppress the Klan within the boundaries of Oklahoma and because he refused to allow the legislature to meet with the avowed purpose of impeaching him.

JAPANESE RISK FIRMS EXPLAIN PAYMENT PLAN

Partial Sacrifice Will Be Made But All Must Be Kept Stable

(Financial News Agency)

Osaka, Oct. 3.—In view of the apparently conflicting reports reaching London and the consequent inquiries from there regarding the decision of the Japanese fire insurance companies at the recent conference on September 30, Reuter's Agency is reliably informed here that a decision to make some sacrifice in the payment of claims was reached in sympathy with the immensity of the catastrophe. It is stated that such sacrifice is conditioned by preservation of the stability of all the companies and also by assistance given by the Government in the making of payments.

It is emphatically stated that the foregoing decision does not affect foreign companies operating in Japan and also that any already published estimate of the percentage which the companies are likely to pay was unauthorized and not reliable. Whatever the decisions reached on this question, they will be subject to the approval of the shareholders of the companies.

(Reuter's Service)

Overthrow Of Governor Aim Of Coalition, Says Speaker

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Oct. 3.—While the election returns have not yet been reported from a few scattered precincts in the provinces Mr. Fernandez has unquestionably been elected by a comfortable majority, thus supporting the stand of the anti-American party.

Manila polled a total of 24,199 votes, of which Mr. Fernandez had a plurality of 1,352. The total reported from the provinces is 33,551, Mr. Fernandez having a plurality of 11,161, giving him a total plurality of over 14,000, whereas they had predicted that plurality in Manila alone.

Mr. Manuel Queen is still in hospital and has made no public comment, but the Speaker, Mr. Roxas, made the following statement for the Coalition: "The elections are over and the forces of freedom have emerged victorious. We expect our friends, the Democrats, to abide by the verdict of the people and they will now join us in our national undertaking to overthrow the autocracy of Governor-General Wood and in the achievement of early as possible of the independence of our country."

Absolute order prevailed throughout the election. The only untoward incident was a shooting reported from Balan Province where a Democrat shot a Coalitionist leader in a personal altercation.

NO PANIC AS JAPAN LIFTS MORATORIUM

Financial Circles Quiet As Clearing House Is Reopened

(Reuter's News Agency)

Tokio, Oct. 2.—The Tokyo Clearing House reopened yesterday and is now managing its clearing of bills without a hitch.

The money market on the day of the withdrawal of the moratorium showed a very anxious aspect. Banking circles at first entertained apprehensions lest some unexpected events should occur in the matter of temporary drawing out of deposits and with this fear in view they had made preparations to meet any emergency, but thanks to the ordinance binding the Bank of Japan to guarantee the rediecount for the rest of Japanese banks, the depositors are not inclined to draw out any big amounts excepting such funds as are required for the maintenance of life. If things should take their own course, the financial circles will, it is observed, tide over the present difficult situation without disturbances.

Revolt Plot In Germany Is Failure

The communists state that the victims were 2 Frenchmen wounded, 7 German civilians killed, 71 seriously wounded and about 100 slightly wounded, 2 Schupos killed and 1 policeman wounded. As a result on the morning of the police, and 13 officers of the Schupos were arrested. Three hundred Green Police were dispersed and confined to barracks, and had to be protected by the French troops against the populace. The occupation authorities have notified the German authorities of the dissolution of the Security Police at Dusseldorf. It is recalled that all military authorities have always endeavored to obtain the disarming of the population without distinction of party.

It was learned that various workers' syndicates in the occupied provinces are favorably regarding the end of passive resistance. A meeting of the free syndicates in the occupied districts at Bochum on September 30 approved the orders given by the Government for the cessation of resistance and the resumption of work. The Alpengarbeiterverband on Sunday decided that miners should not proclaim a strike. Finally the workers' Committee for the Ruhr basin has decided that the extraction of coal shall be resumed in all mines in the Ruhr as soon as possible.

London, Oct. 3.—The action of Dr. Stresemann's own Party, namely, the German People's Party, in submitting demands to the Chancellor has resulted in the political situation becoming considerably worse in the past few hours. The Party, the leader of which is Dr. Scholz, objects to the presence of Socialist members in the Government and requested the Chancellor to reshuffle the Cabinet and include representatives of the German National Party and also to alter the eight-hour day law. Dr. Scholz threatened to put on the screw if the demands were rejected by opposing the Cabinet's bill which seeks full powers in economic and financial matters without the sanction of the Reichstag. Social Democrats oppose interference with the eight-hour day and entry of members of the German National Party into the Government. Meanwhile the German National Party has issued a statement that it will not participate in any revolutionary movement.

The Minister of Economics, Herr Brüning, has resigned. The Cabinet was still sitting at one this morning when it is reported, the outlook seemed little less dark. In the meantime the meeting of the Reichstag fixed for yesterday evening was not held.

B. W. A. Fair Is Postponed

Ye Olde English Fayre has been postponed from October 19, 20 to October 26, 27. The Race Club has most generously permitted the B.W.A. the use of its grounds, restaurants, and Park Hotel Room, but the counters in the latter are so firmly installed that these fittings will take some days to be removed. A big race meeting is to be held on the 13th so that it will readily be seen that the elaborate Fayre preparations could not possibly be carried through in the short time remaining before the original dates proposed. The various stallholders have welcomed this additional time to perfect their arrangements and as all stalls and the tea room will be under cover, the success of the Fayre will not depend upon the weather. Only the Mohawk entrance will be used and the Fayre will not in any way encroach upon the Race Club.

Two More Armed Robberies Add To Big Total

With ten armed robberies—an unprecedented number for the Summer and early Fall—reported last month two more were reported to police yesterday, indicating that the grand total for the year will be one of the largest on record.

The owner of a general store and dwelling at 128 North Fokien Road reported that three men, one of whom was armed with a revolver, entered his store when only two women were there, robbed his wife of a pair of gold bangles and $28 in money. They escaped and no shots were fired.

The second robbery reported was by the owner of a cigarette shop at 780-7, Tientsin Road. Several armed men approached the shop, asked for cigarettes, and then robbed the till of $48. They also escaped.

How to Maintain Accurate Weighing
in the Godown

One of the several designs of Howe's Godown Scales

The best means known to secure and retain a sensitive balancing point is the use of the knife edge pivot. Chemists use an agate edge for weighing minute particles.

Howe's Godown Scales

have a steel knife edge. To maintain accuracy this must be protected as it is impossible to get accurate weight unless the knife edge pivot is sharp and smooth.

A Special Device

of balls moving in scientific shaped cups, allows movement in all directions and minimizes friction or scraping on the knife edge pivot, even when heavy loads are carelessly dropped on the platform. Thus absolute accuracy is maintained for years.

FEUD OF BARBERS SEEN IN MURDER ON FOOCOW RD.

Chinese Stabbed To Death;
One Arrested With Axe

Evidence of a deadly feud between the Wenchow barbers in town are seen in the arrest of a man on Mohawk Road Tuesday night and a fight in a Foochow Road (on the evening previous, when one man was killed).

The man arrested on Mohawk Road was found to be carrying an axe under his gown and on being questioned at the police station, and in the Mixed Court yesterday, that he had been given the weapon by one Tsang Yoong-zhang in order to assist the latter in a fight. Sub-Inspector Mills stated that the defendant was a barber and a Wenchow man and that the battle in the township was between Wenchow barbers.

Following the fracas on Monday night, in which one man was stabbed to death, one Chinese was arrested and at the conclusion of the inquest held on Tuesday, Assessor Allman and Magistrate Li held that he was apparently responsible for the death. The accused stated that some time previously a barber by the name of Yan had been set upon and beaten by loafers and that as a result several of the latter were sent to prison. He had been stopped by part of the loitering gang, he said, and taken to the township where he was told that he must produce Yan. The stabbing, he declared, was done by another man, who escaped through a back door when the police arrived.

NEW MAXIM'S CAFE TO OPEN THIS EVENING

Avenue Edward VII. Entertainment Place Announces
Novelty Program

Tonight another cafe will be added to the list in Shanghai, making its debut with a program which bids fair to outshine the numerous "openings" of the sort held here recently. The cafe in question is the "New Maxim's," at 57-59 Avenue Edward VII.

Among the features announced by the management are food cooked to order to suit individual tastes and not turned out in wholesale orders; entertainment described as entirely novel to Shanghai; and an absence of the "dancing partners furnished" system. The New Maxim's management announce that they will cater to family trade exclusively, and that patrons must supply their own dancing partners.

Among the special attractions for the opening week are "La Belle Irene" American queen of wooden shoe and eccentric dancing; Marie Malotte, popular English music hall star who is not only sweet singer of songs, but plays that astonishingly attractive instrument, the piano-acordeon, and Harry Kerry and his "Five Mad Wags," who will furnish dance music which is promised to be of the best.

Alleged B. V. D. Theft To Be Aired In Court

Harry Hamlin, seaman of the U.S.S. Montague, was held for trial before Judge Charles S. Levinger in the U. S. Court for China at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Luiton yesterday afternoon.

Hamlin is charged with having broken into the ship-closet on board the ship and stealing three suits of B. V. D. underwear. Two of the suits are alleged to have been found on his bunk, and he is said to have been wearing one when the ship's captain conducted search for the stolen articles.

Next Mail Goes On Empress
On Saturday

Taking mail for the States, the President McKinley, which docked at the China Merchants Central Wharf last evening, will sail for Seattle via Japan ports at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and mail is to close at 1 p.m.

Following the McKinley, the next mail for America will go on the Empress of Russia, Saturday. The Empress boat is due at Woonung from Hongkong at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and sailing for Vancouver early Sunday morning. The tender bringing incoming passengers from the ship is expected at the Customs jetty about 11:30 p.m., and the tenders with outgoing passengers for Woonung will leave at 5 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Saturday respectively. Heavy baggage should be delivered to the Company's godown, behind the Chinese Post Office in Szechuen Road, before 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Bringing mail from the States, the Presidents Jefferson and Cleveland are expected to arrive in Shanghai on October 10. Both the vessels should dock at Yokohama tomorrow.

Mail from Europe is to arrive on the P. and O. boat Malwa next Tuesday. The liner is expected to leave Hongkong on Saturday morning. The Kalyan, which sailed from London six days behind the Malwa, is expected to leave Singapore for Hongkong next Saturday noon.

FOREIGNER SAVES PEDESTRIAN FROM HIGHWAY ROBBERY

The timely interference of a foreigner saved a Chinese from highway robbery on Avenue Edward VII Tuesday evening and resulted in two of the would-be highwaymen receiving six months' imprisonment at the Mixed Court yesterday.

The victim of the hold-up was walking along the street, when he was stopped by four or five men who demanded to know if he was carrying any opium. On his denial they seized hold of him and began to search him. Mr. Evans, passing in his motor car at just this moment, stopped the machine, got out and managed to get hold of two of the thieves, whom he turned over to a constable.

The Court yesterday expressed appreciation for Mr. Evans' act and for his appearing in court to prosecute the men.

Smiles From The Mixed Court

From Tsung's house he freely admitted, and he would even go as far as to confess to the Bench that he had worn it ever since; but he had done so simply as a joke. And Sung leaped back in the dock and bent the complacently expectant gaze of the professional entertainer upon the Magistrate.

With laudable consideration for the drab existence of the Municipal jailers, the Magistrate signed the comedian on for a five-days' engagement in the gray building on Ward Road.

THE DUBLIN RETORT

Patrolling Yuen Ming Yuen Road, Sikh Constable No. 75 observed that hawker Yang Tsu-zen had established his goods stall so as to cause an obstruction in the thoroughfare. So he ordered Yang to move into the mouth of a nearby alleyway and give the pedestrians a chance.

As he passed the alleyway on his return trip, the constable told the Court, Yang stepped from behind a light pole and hove a brick. Only the rapid placing of his hand before his face, said the Sikh, prevented the hawker from scoring a bullseye. Yang hove another brick. This was a complete miss on the target, but brought up with shocking effect on the shining enamelled side of the private ricksha of Li Ah-san—who rose wrathfully to testify to the same.

Yang denied the charge. He admitted that he was peevish when the Sikh told him to move and said he had related the grievance to another hawker. It was the other hawker who did the bombarding. A fortnight for Yang.

Carletos And De Dios To Battle At Stadium Again Tomorrow Night

Plenty Of Action Assured For Fight Fans; Semi-Final Also To Be Good: Program Listens Like Best Yet

Tomorrow night, at the Stadium, there will be a boxing match in which there will be odds of action. This is a safe statement for the good and sufficient reason that the principals in the party are to be none other than Kid Carletos and Faustino De Dios.

These boys met three weeks ago. It will be remembered, and at the conclusion of their argument of times at the ring side declared that in all their lives they had never seen two scrappers mix it with such earnestness.

Kid Carletos was knocked out the last time the boys met and will be out to avenge himself tomorrow night. And De Dios, by way of showing that the last bout was no accident, is all primed to set the Kid on his heels once more.

The Carletos De Dios bout will not be the only good battle of tomorrow's program. In the semi-final Charlie Tredwell will hook up with a youngster who for convenience may be designated as Kid Dimple. Kid Dimple would be a more appropriate name for him, however, since Dimple's opponents is his long with Kid Dimple has won his last six fights via the knockout route.

The fights tomorrow night are to be under the management of Billy Bellow, and Billy is not making the mistake of staging two good bouts as semi-final and final events and allowing the rest of the program to slip. He has Kid Manila and Kid Willie battling in a six-round preliminary and this bout should be productive of action. The pair played around at the Old Carlton a few weeks ago and both were a bit wary about going.

Tomorrow night's battle will be for blood and the fans will certainly get their money's worth out of the bout. The boys are weighing in at 98 pounds, and the Portuguese are betting Willy to the win, while the Filipinos here are figuring, of course, that Kid Manila must win.

George Columba, another good boy from Manila who is on his way to the States, is set for a four-round mixup with Battling Rib. The latter was severely trounced by Tredwell, but claims he went out of his class.

There are two more good prelims. Eddie Smith, formerly an American Marine in Peking, is scheduled to battle Kyko, always an attraction here, and Abe Ezra is to fight Billy Raven.

Dr. O'Hara and Mr. F. R. McGrath have consented to referee the bouts while Gus Hertzberg will officiate as timer and J. E. Doyle will be the announcer. Charlie King is to be the master of ceremonies and Billy Bellow said yesterday that there would be no paits between bouts. The

FINAL INTERPORT TENNIS CONTEST ENDS IN A DRAW

Omar Rumjahn And Akeda To Play Again This Afternoon

The final matches of the Interport tennis series between Hongkong and Shanghai were played yesterday at the courts of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association at the Majestic Hotel. In the doubles match, which was "unofficial," the Hongkong players, Sidar and Herbert Rumjahn, easily defeated the Shanghai representatives, J. Elmore and W. Lock-wel, 6-4, 7-5, 2-6 and 6-1.

In the singles match, between Omar Rumjahn and W. Akeda, the contest ended in a tie at two sets all, darkness preventing the final and deciding set. This match will be replayed today. The first two sets were won by Rumjahn, 8-6, 7-6, while Akeda took the last two 7-5 and 6-4.

The play in the doubles match was rather indifferent, with the visitors having an easy time of it generally. In the singles contest there was some good tennis, particularly from the spectators' standpoint, some of the volleys being long drawn out. From a technical standpoint the play was not so good, both players hugging the baselines too closely, and neither being very good at placements. They simply batted the ball back and forth.

At the conclusion of the games tea was served in the pavilion, and afterwards Sir Skinner Turner, in behalf of J. H. Tuckart presented a very beautiful silver trophy to the winning team. This was accepted for the winners of the Interport tournament by John Wade, who in a brief speech told of the pleasure that he and his associates had derived from the meeting with the Hongkong boys.

Captain Sidar Rumjahn, replying, thanked Sir Skinner and the Shanghai players for the hospitality shown to them and expressed the hope that next year, when the Shanghai players visited Hongkong, the Colony would have a strong team to meet them. Mr. Rumjahn modestly admitted that he and his brother and cousin were young and "had much to learn" about tennis. He regretted that the two strongest tennis players in the Colony had been unable to make the trip to Shanghai this year.

Sir Skinner Turner then paid a tribute to the officials, umpires, linesmen and others who had officiated in the games here, saying they deserved great credit for their part in making the tournament a success.

Yachtsmen Get Thrills Out Of Week-End Races

The All Comers' Race held by the Shanghai Yacht Club on Saturday and Sunday last will long be remembered by those who took part in it, for on Sunday both yachts and yachtsmen were put to one of the severest tests they have had for many a long day.

Eight boats crossed the starting line on Saturday afternoon, the course being one of 25 miles upriver to the Red Joss House above Minghong. A strong flood tide was running and a very fresh N. N. E. breeze about Force 5 was blowing, so that some extraordinarily fast sailing times were required. Two boats, the "Dorothea L." and the "Undine," covered the Measured Mile in the Seven Mile Reach in six minutes, while the "Haven" took under seven; that is "going some" for heavy yachts of the cruiser type.

It was a run before the wind in practically the whole way up and the "Undine," which always excels at this form of sailing, was first to finish, in 2 hrs., 20 mins. and 20 secs., a remarkable performance considering she was towing a heavy dinghy. She was closely followed by the "Dorothea L.," only 30 seconds later. The "Foam" had been towed up as a rendezvous for the owners and their guests and all foregathered aboard her during the evening to talk over their experiences during the race, which it transpired had not been without incident. The "Undine" had the misfortune to break her spinnaker boom and blew away her balloon jib; the Haven's spinnaker sheet parted and her of her owner and regrets were many that the elements were too strong for him to stay the course. The "Haikuan," sailed by Mr. A. E. R. de Jonge, had the misfortune to carry away her jib and was sailed under a reefed mainsail only, through the greater part of the race. It was bad luck, as she is a hard weather boat and was well in the running and her skipper deserves all credit for finishing so well up with such a severe handicap.

The "Undine" excellently handled by Mr. H. E. Jones, again sailed splendidly and looked an almost certain winner when, in avoiding a line of fish-nets stretched right across the river in the Seven Mile Reach, she was unfortunate enough to go aground on the lee shore. All efforts to get her off proved unavailing until help was forthcoming from a native boat which managed to tow her off, after nearly an hour of valuable time had been lost. Mr. Jones was generally commiserated with on his misfortune when doing so well. The "Undine" was the surprise of the race. The wind and sea in the Seven Mile Reach were tremendous, the water being covered with "white horses" and the wind against tide creating really large waves. Even that wonderful all-weather yacht, the "Violet," double reefed, found it too much for her and made heavy weather, her crew getting a thorough soaking. Great credit must be given to her skipper, Mr. J. E. R. Harris, for the way he handled her in the trying conditions which prevailed. It was the cruisers' day throughout, by sheer weight and strength they were able to push

RHEUMATISM MASTERED

Another Tortured Victim Cured By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

What people are saying every where is worth believing. And for over thirty years people in all parts of the world have been telling how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured them of rheumatism, often in its severest forms. Here is recent evidence from South Africa. Mrs. G. W. Dieckmans, of Lower Main Street, Swellendam, Cape Colony, stating:—

"For three years I suffered agonies through rheumatic pains in my back and shoulders. The pain sometimes compelled me to give up my work; my sleep was always broken and restless. I tried external remedies but only got slight temporary relief. One day a book was left at my door about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I saw therein cures of cases like mine. I took a course of them, and am now cured of this trying ailment."

Rheumatism is in the blood; therefore you cannot rub it out with embrocations and liniments; you must eliminate the uric acid which is its cause from your blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills purify and at the same time strengthen the blood; they make new rich red blood which revitalizes the nerves and the whole system. Dealers everywhere sell them, or post free, $1.50 per bottle, $3 for 6 bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

For a race of this description it is always a difficult matter to arrange handicaps. This year the Commodore, Vice Commodore and the Hon. Secretary made up independent handicaps which were averaged. No one could have foreseen such conditions as were experienced, which resulted in the handicaps being greatly in favor of the big boats. Nevertheless, the win of Mr. O. Bersani in the "Eveline" was a well deserved and very popular one.

For next year the excellent suggestion has been made that instead of awarding three handicap prizes, there should be one prize for the first boat to finish on actual sailing time one prize for the first boat on corrected handicap time and one prize for the smallest boat to complete the course, irrespective of time. This will no doubt receive careful consideration at the hands of the Club's Committee when next year's race is being arranged.

Sunday provided one of those sailing experiences which are remembered by those who took part in it long after the more enjoyable days afloat are forgotten. It tried ones rigging and gear to the utmost; it increased ones confidence in ones boat—or otherwise!—and it afforded a severe test of helmsmanship, for which all who went through it must be the better.

It was certainly the hardest and most memorable day's sailing the Club has had this season and that no more serious mishaps occurred than those recorded above is a result on which all those who took part in it are to be congratulated.

Wood Goes After Wily Fish While Voters Vote

(Exclusive China Press)
Manila, Oct. 2.—Governor-General Leonard Wood, who has held himself aloof from the political campaign that raged around the election today of either Mayor Ramon Fernandez or Judge Juan Sumulong as Senator from the Fourth Senatorial District, today bought new fishing tackle and prepared to leave Manila tomorrow for a tour of the provinces.

The Governor-General expects to land several "big ones" on his tour of inspection and although the election today in reality revolves about him rather than either of the candidates or, and issues, he was apparently more concerned with his fishing tackle than he was with the election.

General Wood said his only concern was that the elections be carried out honestly and without disorder and that all reports from the provinces showed that such was the case.

FRANCE'S TASK NOT FINISHED, SAYS POINCARE

French Premier Again Flays Berlin For Hostile Stand In Ruhr

(French Wireless through Reuters)

Paris, Oct. 1.—M. Poincare, opening as president the session of Council-General of the Meuse, made a speech in which he emphasised the moral unity of the French nation, which had never more clearly made known to the world its sentiments and desires.

The Premier, turning to the question of the Ruhr, recalled that after long months of patience, after an interminable series of vain concessions, France had entered the Ruhr and at once there had begun to be played a most astonishing comedy, which several times nearly turned into a blood-thirsty drama, sabotage of railways, and the fusing of millions of marks to maintain the worker in inaction and the industrialist in idleness.

The French did not allow themselves to be disturbed, and perfectly understood that these insane demonstrations would be reduced to powerlessness. The anticipated collapse arrived, resistance failed of itself and the Berlin Government was forced to recognise that it was no longer in a position to continue the struggle. It accompanied this confession with hostile comments, false assertions and lying accusations, and it was in vague and equivocal terms that it suppressed the ordinances and decrees prescribing resistance. In conclusion the Premier declared that the task was not yet finished, but, if they preserved their sangfroid, they were masters of the situation.

Speaking at the meeting of the Council-General of the Pyrenees Orientales, M. Barthou, the President of the Reparation Commission also emphasised that it would be a great error and a dangerous illusion to believe that the withdrawal of the ordinances issued by the Reich would create overnight a new order of things. If the moral victory of France was incontestable and complete, it proved what will, patience and confidence in the service of right could do. It would still take time to record the material profits which that victory brought.

In conclusion M. Barthou said: "We wish neither to humiliate, ruin nor dismember Germany, whose fate depends on her good-will, but we wish her to suffer the consequences of the Treaty of Versailles and to fulfil loyally its stipulations. We have confidence in our rights and in that great Frenchman who has the honor of directing France.

DENIES REPORT OF SCHEME FOR OPIUM TRAFFIC

Chinese Envoy Says Nation Is Doing Its Best To Fight Drug

(Reuters Service)

Geneva, Sept. 29.—Addressing the Assembly of the League of Nations on September 26, Mr. Chu Chao-hsin denied the rumor that China intended to establish an opium monopoly. China had never legalised the traffic, which she was doing her utmost to suppress according to the Hague Convention. Mr. Chu was gratified that the United States had associated themselves with the work of the Advisory Committee and he was hopeful that the opium problem would be successfully solved.

Speaking on the subject of intellectual co-operation on September 27, Mr. Chu agreed to the proposal to exchange professors and students. China had sent out over 2,000 young people to America for scientific studies and a still larger number were studying in Europe.

He hoped that the Europeans would likewise visit the East. Mr. Chu appealed to the Western ers in the Far East solely concerned with money-making not to overlook what was more precious, namely, the oriental type of intellectualism.

(Reuters Service)

Simla, Sept. 29.—The agreement for the direct supply of opium to the Dutch East Indies low immediately afterwards.

Government has been renewed for five years.

(Reuters Service)
Geneva, Sept. 29.—The Council of the League of Nations has decided that the conference of States where opium-smoking continues shall meet at Geneva in the middle of July, 1924, the second opium conference to follow the Dutch East Indies low immediately afterwards.

October 3, 1923.

Spot bar silver was up 1/4 d. and forward down 1/4 d. in London yesterday. The New York price is unchanged and the London-New York cross rate advanced to 454 1/4.

The only changes in our official quotations here today were a drop in the Franc rate to 1170 and in the Rupee rate to 22 1/2.

Our market here today was inclined to be easy. There were sellers of Sterling at 3s. 1 1/2 d. for October delivery. 3-1 1/2 November and 3s. 1 1/2 December. There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 70 1/2 for near and forward deliveries.

There were good buyers of both Sterling and Gold Dollars at a fraction above these rates. There was a good demand for Yen, particularly for near delivery. Some business was done at 69 1/2 for October delivery and 69 1/4 for forward.

Banks were quoting 3s. 1 1/2 d. for Sterling bills for near delivery and 3s. 1 1/2 d. for forward. They were quoting 72 and 1220 for Gold Dollar and Franc bills respectively.

India bought silver for near delivery in the London market yesterday and China sold the market closing steady. New York report their market as easy.

Nationalists Triumphant
The election of Mr. May Ramon, Fernando of Manila as Senator from the Fourth Senatorial District in the Philippines over Judge Juan Sumulong must be admitted as a victory for the nationalism that has spread through the islands under the leadership of Manuel Quezon.

Mayor Fernandez, nemesis of Quezon, the politician of the islands and an opponent of every thing American, received a substantial majority in the election over Judge Sumulong, the Democratic candidate and a conservative Filipino.

Sumulong could not be called a supporter of General Wood in the fullest sense of the term, but he was a fair-minded patriot who considered, and correctly we think, that the Filipinos have not yet advanced in political government to the point where they can completely throw off American assistance and enjoy complete independence. His policies have led toward closer, more intelligent co-operation with Americans rather than adherence to the non-co-operationist method advocated by Quezon and his followers.

Speaker Roxas, spokesman for the Nationalista faction during the illness of Quezon, made himself obnoxious immediately upon learning of the election return by asserting that now the Phi-lipinos would be suited in throwing off the "autocracy" of Governor-General Wood as a further step toward immediate and complete independence.

The anti-American sentiment expressed by the "victors" during the campaign, the anti-American feeling expressed in the election itself, and other egotistical bigotry shown by Quezon, Roxas and other acknowledged leaders of the Filipino people will surely drive Americans at home that the Filipinos are even farther from being ready to govern themselves than their critics have imagined.

Mayor Fernandez has been elected, but not by an overwhelming majority. The vote clearly showed how far the voters of the Fourth Senatorial District have been led away from the safe and sane path of progress by the promises and blandishments of Quezon.

Under Governor-General Harrison the lax policy of the United States toward the Philippines resulted in evils that have caused Governor-General Wood more trouble than he ever had as a more General in the United States Army. General Wood, fortunately, is a doctor as well as an Army man, and an administrator and he has correctly diagnosed the Filipino case. In his report as a member of the Wood-Ford commission he said that the Phi-lipino people were not yet competent to govern themselves.
They are not.

The Jones act, a splendid move toward ultimate independence of the Filipino people had had the intelligence to use it in the right way, should be no modified that the Governor-General will once more come into his own. He should not be continually harassed by the obstructionist methods of the Filipino politicians. We predict that the Filipino question will play an important part in the next session of Congress and in the interest of Americans in the Far East, we are in a closer touch with the situation than those at home, we sincerely hope it will result in the injection of more Americanism into the Phi-lipino situation, and the subtraction of some of the power now held by the discordant elements who have so hindered their hostility to American good-will and American assistance.

All we say is that Jiggs had better get all the corned beef and cabbage his system demands stewed away before the earful rings.

Anybody that wants to know what the world's coming to can stick it right in their sun-bonnet that it isn't coming to its senses.

Destroyer Smith Thompson Gave Valiant Service

BY AN OFFICER

In accordance with Admiral Anderson's plan of assigning the various ships of the U. S. Asiatic Fleet to the districts devastated by the earthquake, the U. S. S.
Smith Thompson was ordered to make a trip to Kamakura as relief ship. On Thursday September 6, we got under way at daybreak and proceeded cautiously as even the buoys and lighthouses had not escaped the terrible effects of the earthquake.
As we had just arrived the previous day from Dairen, Manchuria, this was to be our first trip ashore to see at first hand the damage and destruction which had followed in the wake of the earthquake.

A landing force was organized on route from Yokohama to Kamakura and plans of operation mapped out with the assistance of three civilians who came along as guides. When we finally anchored in the peaceful little bay about a mile from the town it was only necessary to put the ship's boats in the water and embark the rescue party.
Water, medical supplies, street-carts and a few tools were taken along. Fortunately the bay was calm which made it easy for the boats to make the beach.

The landing force which was composed of three officers and sixty men was divided into two parties, the larger of which got at the beach Mrs. Lynch was put the refugees from the Kaihin Hotel. Our first endeavor was to attend to the stretcher cases and to give first aid to those with minor injuries. The stretcher cases which numbered five, were all ladies who bore their misfortune bravely in spite of broken and crushed limbs.

From the time of the earthquake until the arrival of the Smith Thompson on Thursday the residents of Kamakura had received no assistance and were living in demolished houses, tents and improvised shacks.
Although the food supply had not given out it consisted chiefly of canned goods which must have grown rather monotonous after five days. As far as could be ascertained only one European, a Danish painter, had been killed.
The Japanese dead numbered about fifty.

The tidal wave which accompanied the earthquake had strewn the beach with debris of every description. It was by good fortune that the buildings of Kama-kura were not touched by fire for otherwise the number of dead and injured would have been undoubtedly increased. The once beautiful Kaihin Hotel while still standing was a mass of plaster, loose brick and debris inside.
Floors were tilted at every conceivable angle and the interior furnishings of the hotel were thrown about where they had been scattered by the earthquake.
The dining room of the Hotel was completely demolished and lay flat on the ground.

A large number of European refugees had collected under a

Your most attached, BRYON.

P. S.—These taunts have driven you to this, my dearest Caroline, and were it not for your mother and the kindness of your connections, there is nothing in heaven or earth that would have made me so happy as to have made you mine long ago? And not less now than then, but more than ever at this time.

God knows I wish you happy, and when I quit you, or rather you, from a sense of duty to your husband and mother, quit me, you shall acknowledge the truth I again promise and vow, that no other, in word or deed, shall ever hold the place in my affections which is and shall be sacred, to you till I am nothing. You know I would with pleasure give up all here or beyond the grave for you, and in refraining from this, my motives be misunderstood?

I care not who knows this, what use is made of it—it is to you and to you only, yourself. I was and am yours, freely and entirely, to obey, to honor, love and fly with you, when, where and how, yourself see much more, much more on might and may determine.

Something To Think About

By Bruno Lessing

WHAT IS LOVE? Letters come pouring in defining love. The writer offered a prize for a definition that would be comprehensive and convincing. No response thus far has been one-tenth as clear as Voltaire's dictum: "Love is the embroilment of the imagination and, therefore, have a different idea of love."

ery upon the stuff of nature." The diversity of definitions is so great that it practically proves Voltaire's contention. Because all of us have a different kind or degree of imagination and, therefore, have a different idea of love.

Many correspondents base their definition upon religion. Those, of course, are not worth considering. Pagans, infidels and savages have loved passionately.

The basis of love is, of course, physical. The weak, the deformed and the ill-favored resent this and are eager to base love upon intellectual or psychological or spiritual attraction. The wish is father to the belief.

No doubt there are beings who work themselves into a state of ecstasy over some bond which they believe to exist between themselves and some person of the opposite sex whom they know only through that person's writings or sermons or achievements or reputation or position. But that is not real or true love.

A Chicago lady writes: "Love is an enveloping consciousness of a feeling unbounded, and gratifyingly crowding, having as many qualities as many persons love—and have loved." A gentleman from New Jersey sends this:

"Love—that sweet longing of somebody for somebody of the opposite sex, which so intensifies the other feelings—constructive rather than destructive—of the one affected."

And, from another town: "Love is one or more of the best qualities, physical or mental, within a living being, reflected upon another and arousing a desire to participate in same."

All this twaddle merely shows how many different kinds of imagination there are. Each is different from the other, yet the three of them are painfully the same and if you work at them long enough you will grasp a glimmering of meaning.

So far there has been no definition that improved upon Voltaire's. Here, however, is a letter from Los Angeles that may help some philosopher to define love:

"I am only seventeen years old and didn't have much experience. All I know is that I'm in love. She has a squint in her eye and she is skinny, but I'm just crazy about her. I don't care about money or jobs or my mother or sister or whether I eat or what becomes of me or if the whole world goes to hell as long as I got her. That is love. Do I get the prize?"

This young man is unquestionably in love. His description of his feelings is graphic. Will it help you to give a description of love that is more comprehensive or convincing than Voltaire's?

RECONCILIATION

A One-act Drama Dramatis Personae—A Houston married couple.

Scenes—Her boudoir.

He—And now, Viola, since we understand each other, let us never fall out again. Let us forget the bitter words that we have spoken one to another, and resolve to dwell in love and affection. (Places his arm around her waist.)

She—Oh, Charles, you don't know how happy you make me! Of course we will never quarrel again. Life is too short to waste in petty bickerings and strife. Let us keep in the primrose path of love, and never stray from it anymore. Oh, what bliss to think you love me and nothing can ever come between us. Just like the old days when we used to meet by the lilac hedge, isn't it? (Lays her head on his shoulder.)

He—Yes, and when I used to pull blossoms and twine them in your hair and call you queen Titania.

She—Oh, that was nice. I remember. Queen Titania? Oh, yes, she was one of Shakespeare's characters, who fell in love with a man with a donkey's head.

He—H'm!

She—Now don't. I didn't mean you. Oh, Charles, are you sure you love me as well as you used to?

He—More. (Smack.)

She—Does 'em flink me sweet.

He—(Smack! Smack!)

She—Wuv 'em's toodlelums?

He—Awful heap. Who do you wuv?

She—My ownest own old boy.

Both—(Smack!).

He—We should be doubly happy, love, for we have passed through stormy seas of doubt and anger. But now, a light is breaking, and the rosy dawn of love has returned.

She—And should abide with us forever. Oh, Charles, let us never again by word or look cause pain to each other.

He—Never again. And you will not scold anymore?

She—No, dearest. You know I never have unless you gave me cause.

He—Sometimes you have become angry and said hard things without any reason.

She—Maybe you think so, but I don't.

(Lifts her head from his shoulder.)

He—I know what I'm talking about.

(Takes his arm from her waist.)

She—You come home cross because you haven't got sense enough to conduct your business properly, and take your spite out on me.

He—You make me tired. You got on your car because you are naturally one of the calm-raising kind and can't help it.

She—You old cross-patch of a liar from Liarville, don't you talk to me that way or I'll scratch your eyes out.

He—You wildest. I wish I had been struck by lightning before I ever met you.

She—(Seizing the broom)—Biff! biff!

He—(after reaching the sidewalk)—I wonder if Colonel Ingersoll is right when he says suicide is no sin! (Curtain.)

FAMOUS LOVE LETTERS

LORD BYRON—1788-1824

The following was written to Lady Caroline Lamb.

Mr Dearest Caroline—If the tears which you saw and know I am not apt to shed; if the agitation in which I parted from you—agitations which you must have perceived through the whole of this nervous affair did not commence till the moment of leaving you approached; if all I have said and done, and am still but too ready to say and do, have not sufficiently proved what my feelings are and must ever be toward you, my love, I have no other proof to offer.

God knows I never knew till this moment the madness of my dear, dearest and most beloved friend. I cannot express myself—this is not time for words—but I "Began to think she would never get well."

Our Portrait is of Miss FLORIE ORGAN, of 100, Clark Street, Ladywood, Birmingham, England, whose father writes:

"My daughter Florie was suffering with a very bad head covered with sores and eruptions, and in fact her mother was afraid to comb her hair. She had been under several doctors, but all to no purpose, so I began to think she would never get well again and lose all her hair. As your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' cured me of Glandular Swellings in the Neck some years ago, and so averted my having to undergo an operation, I decided to give 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a fair trial in the case of my daughter, and I am pleased to say it effected a wonderful cure in just over a fortnight."

SUFFERERS from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Gout, should realize that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief; to be sure of complete and lasting benefit the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter the root cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes and expels the impurities; that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies

Infant mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

EXTRACT FROM EXPERT REPORT:

"Having visited most of the cement factories of Great Britain, America and Europe, I am in a position to form an opinion of the relative merits and faults of each... but my experience lead me to the conclusion that 'pide of place' must unquestionably be given to the Holderbank Factory in Switzerland... in design and construction it is a model without rival in any country." W. H. Brown, A. M. I. Mech. E., leading authority in England in cement manufacturing.

The Wisdom of the ancient Sage and the technical experience of a modern authority on cement manufacturing have guided us to instal a set of machinery in our Lungwha Works which is an exact model of the one used by the Holderbank factory, Switzerland, and supplied by the original patentees with numerous latest improvements. The cement we are now supplying our customers is the product of that "perfect instrument."

People who used to come to the Del Monte once or twice a week now come every night.

Their only complaint is that we didn't tell them about Victor Galvin's cooking before.

There are many newcomers in the crowds, too. They all express surprise over the Del Monte entertainment features.

By the way, have you seen the new ballet?

Pronounced the best yet by the large and growing army of Del Monte

BIRTHRATE IN SWEDEN DROPS, REPORT SHOWS

Past Year Shows Lowest Yet

Recorded; Divorces

Increase

(Reuter's Service)

Stockholm, August 24.—The vital statistics show that the Swedish birthrate is getting lower and it is doubtful, says the Director of the Statistical Bureau, if any country can point to an increase. For decades the birthrate has shown a steady decrease in Sweden. The war years, however, had a rapidly rising curve, which fell with the same speed. The marriage rate rose from 5.82 per mille in 1914 to 7.29 in 1920, and in connection with it the number of children born to 23.57 per mille in 1920, whereupon it rapidly went back. In 1921 it was 21.38 and last year 19.55, the lowest yet recorded.

The number of divorces are increasing steadily, being 1448 in 1922, which is an abnormally high figure. There is no indication of a lessening this year; indeed the figures for the last six months in Stockholm point to a further considerable increase.
